A LIVING HISTORY OF BRISBANE WOMEN'S FOOTBALL

It's almost 100 years
since the story of Brisbane Women's Football began.

In gathering club, team and individual contributions and sharing them with a broader audience, this project is shining a light on a forgotten part of our local sports heritage.

Can you help?

with the ball at HER feet

We call with the ball at HER feet a living history because it keeps growing. Our aim is to have the Brisbane women's football community tell its own story.

Rather than have a professional sports writer or a dusty historian tell it, we want the project to be for the community and by the community.

We're collecting stories, photos and memorabilia to add to our narrative archive of this remarkable history.

We'd love to add your story. You could send us a photograph and or a few lines of text and we'll add it. We will of course credit you for your contribution.

We can scan photographs, brochures and posters. We can photograph anything else. Be assured that we will return your images or memorabilia to you as quickly as we can. We will care for your football treasures as we care for our own.

As the story grows, we'll be adding interviews and galleries too. We'd be happy to send our researcher to visit you to hear your football story.
