

KICK-OFF SESSION GUIDE

FOOTBALL AUSTRALIA

INTRODUCTION.

PURPOSE

Not so long ago, children learned football by playing the game on the street or in the park, for hours, making their own rules. It was free play – with no adults to interfere – and they played because they enjoyed it. For a host of reasons, street football has virtually disappeared. The challenge today for grassroots football deliverers is to recreate that environment of FUN and freedom and deliver the learning foundation that street football used to provide.

We believe that this fun and free approach to playing football will give thousands of young players enjoyable football experiences that will foster a love and passion for the beautiful game that will last a lifetime.

With this guide we want to support facilitators in order to create a SAFE environment which empowers children to thrive by offering activities that suit their stage of development, age, abilities and interest.

We want to also stress the importance of adapting and modifying activities by embracing the rich diversity of our players and adopting INCLUSIVE practices. When planning games, it is important to understand each participant's physical, psychological, social and cognitive capabilities. Depending on their level, adjustments or modifications may need to be made to ensure all players are engaged and included in order to achieve an adequate level of success.

INTRODUCTION.

FACILITATOR TIPS

The first and most important step is to take the word 'coach' out of your mind. Your role is summed up as a leader of fun, safe and engaging practices. Just let them play!

Pre-Practice/Match:

- Arrive early to set up your activities and games
- Greet every child with a smile and acknowledge each one by name
- As each child arrives, get them organised into a small-sided game
- Create a culture where you communicate with parents in a positive way

During Practice/Match:

- Create an environment that encourages children to freely express themselves
- Praise effort, not ability
- Encourage children to improvise and be creative with the ball at their feet
- Model good sportspersonship-like behaviour

Post Practice/Match:

- Develop a habit to get players to support you in packing up
- Create a culture where the players show gratitude towards opponents, officials and facilitators
- Farewell every child with a positive comment about their effort and attitude
- Encourage each child to practice a FUN home skill (e.g. juggling) based on their ability level

INCLUSIVE PRACTICE

As a MiniRoos game leader you can foster an inclusive culture within your player group. Being inclusive does not mean having to learn an entirely new skill set because good game leaders or facilitators are by their nature inclusive. This is because they understand all players are different and are willing to make modifications to get the best out of everyone.

Creating an inclusive environment is not hard. Negative attitudes, lack of confidence and fear of the unknown can prevent participation more than physical barriers. All players participate in and enjoy football for the same reasons. By being willing to make modifications and focusing on the players' needs and abilities, you can create an inclusive environment.

Your actions and attitudes will reflect on your participants and others in the club leading to a positive and inclusive culture. To further assist game leaders with creating and providing inclusive environments for their players, we suggest considering the practices on the next page:

Building skills, knowledge and behaviours that give us the confidence and motivation to lead active lives

The MiniRoos Kick-Off Session Guide consists of 10 session plans which have been designed to support the National Health and Physical Education curriculum and the development of children's Physical Literacy. This resource recognises that all children have the potential to be competent, confident, motivated, and knowledgeable in movement, physical activity, and sport. Therefore, the main aims of the session plans are for all children to enjoy and to be engaged in physical activity whilst developing their personal movement skills, confidence and motivation.

The session plans align to Sport Australia's Physical Literacy Framework, which is based on a holistic approach to learning. As such, the session plans in this resource are not only designed to improve children's movement and object manipulation skills but also other physical literacy elements across the psychological, social, and cognitive domains (outlined in the table below).

THE FOUR DOMAINS
Physical skills and fitness	The attitudes and emotions that motivate you to be active	The social skills to be active with others	The knowledge and understanding of how, why and when you move

We know that each group of children is different so the session plans have also been designed to make them easy to organise and flexible to adapt for your group of players. The purpose of the session plans is for children to learn through play and game-based activities, and further demonstrate:

- how to organise the games
- how to play them
- ideas for changing the games
- facilitator questions to help support the relevant physical literacy elements
- tips to help the facilitator know what to observe as the games are being played.

We hope that you and your group of children have fun playing and learning from the session plans outlined in the resource. We also hope that they support you to design your own games and activities to continue supporting the physical literacy development of your group of players.

Some of the content used in this resource has been adapted from Sport Australia's Playing for Life Companion resources.

CHOOSE YOUR OWN

In this tenth session, we encourage facilitators to choose their own games based on the experience and success of the previous four weeks. Questions to ask when choosing the games to play may consider the following aspects:

- Which games have been the most FUN and engaging for the players?
- What games are easy for you as a facilitator to organise?
- What set-up for the small-sided games do you feel best allows children to freely express themselves?

KEY POINTS

Small-Sided Game

- A FUN way to commence a practical session
- Resembles street football in a safe and supervised environment

FUN Football Game

- Child friendly games that are related to the game of football
- Games need to enable all children to experience success

Small-Sided Game (with variation)

- Return to the original small-sided game with a slight variation
- Introduce scoring system as an incentive to encourage certain actions but does not restrict players from freedom of expression

Physical Literacy Game

- All children have the potential to be competent and confident
- Show your sense of humour and get involved yourself!

Small-Sided Game

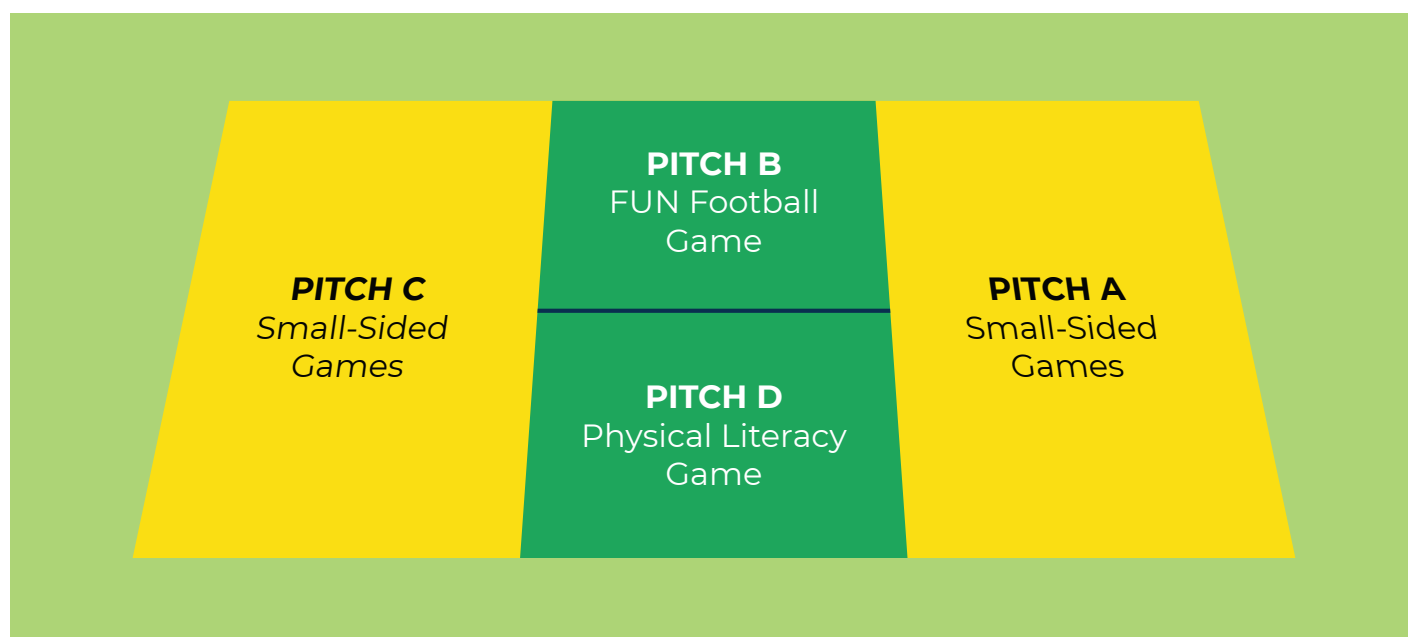

- Let them play!

THE CIRCUIT METHOD.

As a facilitator, you may opt to deliver your own full MiniRoos Kick-off session from start to finish with your players. Alternatively, you can combine with other facilitators to deliver a session using the 'circuit method.'

Benefits of using the 'circuit method':

- exposes players to a range of activities in one session
- each facilitator responsible for one activity during the session
- maximises playing time by moving quickly between activities
- Equal exposure to every activity within the session

Using the 'circuit method' with 6 different teams:

ROUND	PITCH A	PITCH B	PITCH C	PITCH D
1	1 v 2	3	4 v 5	6
2	6 v 1	2	3 v 4	5
3	5 v 6	1	2 v 3	4
4	4 v 5	6	1 v 2	3
5	3 v 4	5	6 v 1	2
6	2 v 3	4	5 v 6	1

The Small-Sided-Games and mini-training sessions (FUN Football Game & Physical Literacy Game) take place on pitches A, B, C and D. There are two teams for each Small-Sided-Game and one team per FUN Football Game and Physical Literacy Game.
